RICHMOND CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 9, 1915. NUMBER 240

CANYON ROAD FLOODED BY THE HEAVY DOWNPOUR

Rain, rain please go away
Until that day
They've fixed the road way.

Motorists are joining together in this supplication to Jup Pluvius for a short delay in acqua exhibitions The Franklin Canyon road, between this city and Martinez is the cause of the "hue and cry." The road is being repaired and will take some time before it is in navigable condition. Yesterday, some twenty machines were stalled in the mud, the road resembling a miniature edition of the big flood.

Attorney Wilbur S. Pierce was one of the motorists to get "stuck". Pierce's machine foundered in four feet of water and mud, and it was only after wasting much energy and valuable advice that he succeeded in getting his machine out of the flood region.

"About $50,000 worth of legal advice went to waste on that trip of road today," said a local motorist last night. "Some thirty legal lights were "stuck in the mud and the only ones to reap the benefit of their opinions of rain and bad roads in general, were several cows and stray wild foul."

PASS AWARD OF HEATING CONTRACT: PROTEST

Over the protest of Councilmen Ludewig and Ogborn, the council last night passed a resolution accepting the bid of Scott & company for a new heating system in the present city hall. Scott's bid was the lowest. The bids were Scott & Co. $720; J. E. O'Mara, $734; Robert Dalziel, $826; Magrin and Otter $340; Johnson and Greison, $852.55 and Spiersch Bros $995.

"I oppcsed letting the bid," said Ludewig following the meeting, "believeing that is is unwise to spend a large sum of money such as this for temporary heating system. To me it seems only a useless waste of money and I think that the heating problem could have been solved without the outlay of so much money. It does not seem practical to me."

Osborn stated that the boiler of the Scott system was not up to the standard and that it was not likely that it could be used in the new building.

The Married Men of the Elks defeated the single men Sunday in a baseball game 6 to 5.

BID CALLING BRINGS OUT PROTEST

The protest against the proposed development of the intersecting of Ashland, and Richmond avenues and Cutting Boulevard, was overruled by the city council last night. Speaking for the protestants, H. W. Werruse, real estate man declared that it was not necessary and gave arguments against allowing the work. A representative of the Santa Fe railroad company also appeared and protested against the proposed work.

The council, however overruled the protestants and called for bids. City Engineer Chapman estimated that the work would cost approximately $5,886 and that the average per lot would be about $8.49.

Did Local Man Take His Life?

Has Henry Reinhardt made good his threat to commit suicide?

This is a question which is perplexing the friends of the former Standard Oil employee. Reinhardt, according to Mrs. M. Rashe, his housekeeper, resigned his position last week. He then she says deeded property and interests over to her and declared that he was going to "jump overboard."

Several months ago, Reinhardt's wife died. He has been brooding, it is said since his wife's death. Reinhardt told W. H. Conn, well known local realty dealer, that he had deeded his property over to Mrs. Rashe and that he (Conn) should dispose of it. Reinhardt also told Conn that he intended going to New York.

Since that time, Reinhardt has not been seen. Reinhardt's only relative is a step daughter, wife of "Dad" Moulton, the famous trainer of Stanford University.

LABOR HEAD PRESENTED PLAQUE BY EXPO.

The 35th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor opened in the California building at the Exposition at 10 a. m. yesterday.

Four hundred delegates and officers of the great organization were welcomed by Gov. Johnson, Mayor Rolph, Archbishop Hanna, Pres. C. C. Moore of the Exposition; P. H. McCarthy, president of the State Building Trades' Council; D. P. Haggerty, president of the State Federation of Labor, and Daniel Murphy, president of the San Francisco Labor Council. Samuel Gompers, responded. He was presented with a commorative bronze plaque by Exposition officials.

The initial business session will be held in Eagles' hall the convention headquarters, at 9 a. m. today. The first matter to be taken up will be the report of the executive council, of which President Samuel Gompers is the head.

Here are a few of the many recommendation made by the committee: A world labor congress at the end of the present war, to insure lasting peace; the establishment of closer relations with labor in South and Central America; vigorous extension by the Federation of the organizing of women in the various trades; concentration of wage earners on the object of extending the 8-hour day throughout the world; a protest against any attempt to amend or nullify the La Follette seamen's bill; establishment of a Bureau of Labor Safety in the U. S. Department of Commerce; a law permitting civil service employes of the government to organize; a law prohibiting the interstate shipment of all goods made by child labor; limitation of immigration and a law in every state in support of vocational training; support by the labor movement of the principles of the initiative and referendum; endorsement of the plan of Sec. of Labor Wilson to establish a Federal Employment Bureau; a law authorizing government loans for cities to build homes for laboring people.

AID TEACHERS TO ORGANIZE

The executive council recommends that every possible aid be given the efforts being made for many quarters to organize the school teachers.

The exploitation of the workers by fake employment agencies is scathingly denounced in the report. Detective agencies that supply employers with strikebreakers are included under this head.

RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF RICHMOND-MARIN FERRY

S. W. Barnes, has resigned as traffic manager, of the Richmond-Marin Ferry company. He will devote his time to other business interests. Barnes was well known and gained a host of friends by his able management of the system. He will succeeded by Moss Moch, formerly assistant traffic manager. Moch has had many years of experience in this particular line of business and superintended the erection of the two piers of the system.

He is also a pioneer resident of this city.

CHILDREN WILL BE THE GUESTS OF J. C. OWENS

State Senator James C. Owens announced yesterday that he would assist the Key Route people in making, November 20th a long to be remembered day for the children. Owens has agreed to pay the admission fee to the exposition for all local children attending the affair and will also be host to the children at several concessions on the Zone. J. O. Ford of the school board will make the arrangements for the handling of the children.

ROUTINE MATTERS HANDLED BY COUNCIL

Now We Can Sleep

A communication was received from the Santa Fe relative to the locomotive whistling in the early hours of the morning. The company promised to stop any further disturbance to the peaceful slumbers of local residents.

Refuse Free Plants.

"Nothing for nothing" is the motto of the P. P. I. E. directors. In response to the inquiry of the council asking that Richmond be presented some of the trees and shrubbery of the Fair, a communication was received announcing that the city could have these, providing they would pay for them.

Invited to Convention.

The council was invited to attend the meeting of the California Library association, Saturday at the Library.

Earth for School.

The school board was granted permission o remove 25 carloads of dirt from Nevada street to be used on the Washington school grounds.

Meat Here Excellent.

A boost for local meat dealers was shown in the reportof Sanitary Inspector Homer Wyatt, the report showing that of 143 inspections of carcasses for consumption, not one was below the standard. Wyatt's report also showed that 1,152,000 had been captured this year.

Kreig Reports.

The report of Building Inspector Fred Kreig was received and accepted. The report follows: plumbing inspections 44, houses inspected, 9; plumbing condemned 4; sewers inspected 52.

Stork Leads Reaper.

Fourteen deaths and 27 births were imbued in the report of City Health Commissioner Charles R. Blake.

Granted Extension.

Galbraith and Janes were granted an extension of 30 days for the completion of Laurel avenue.

LABEL LEAGUE MEETING WILL BE HELD THIS EVE.

An important meeting of the Label League will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Musicians hall. Business of vital importance will demand the attention of all members and all are urged to attend. The league is rapidly gaining in strength and membership and is an important factor in this city.

ALAMEDA ELKS WILL BE GUESTS OF LOCAL BODY

This evening the officers of Alameda lodge of Elks will visit Richmond with a large delegation of the members of the Alameda lodge to handle the initiation of a class of twenty-one candidates into Rich mond lodge.

The affair will be followed by a feast and a jinks at which a number of out of town entertainers will appear. The local lodge is making preparations to entertain a large number of visitors.

CAR COMPANY GETS COIN FOR BUNK HOUSE PERMIT

An aftermath of the recent difficulties between the carmen's union and the company crept into the council chambers last night. The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway company during the critical stage of the situation with the carmen, secured a building permit from the office of the Building Inspector eBrt Wierda for the erection of bunk houses to cost $1,100. Last night they asked that the council return the $2.40 paid for the permit as the company did not intedn to use it. The money was returned.

COUNCILMAN WANTED TO KNOW OF PAY VARIATIONS

Councilman John Gerlach wanted to know why Lieutenants Fred Brewen and Ollie Gandine of the fire department received a monthly compensation of $80 while, lieutenant W. W. Moore received but $75. Fire Chief Lemoin explained that it is encessary for a man to be in the service one year before receiving additional money. Moore had served one year up to October 15th. The council will thresh the matter out at its next meeting.

RAILROAD COMPANY IS GRILLED AT MEETING

"If there isn't an ordinance making a corporation do their part of the street work, then the council should add some amendment to cover the case," said Harry Ells, local real estate man before the council. Ells claimed that the Southern Pacific railroad company has as yet failed to improve that section of their property crossing the Cutting Boulevard. According to Ells this is a great detraction from the beauty of the street. According to Ells, the company has been starting on the job for five months but has failed to reach it. City Engineer Chapman stated that the railroad people had called for bids for the work but had no idea when they planned to start on the job. The crossing is at Twenty third street and Cutting Boulevard.

COUNCIL DECIDES NOT TO ESTABLISHES CROSSING

Third, Fifth and Eighth streets of the Oakland branch of the Santa Fe railroad system will not be established as grade crossings. In his ruling commissioner Gordon said that he would allow the city these crossings providing the city would close Second and Sixth street.

STEADILY CONCENTRATING

The New York Society To Lower Rents, with headquarters at 320 Broadway, has issued the following statement:

The total assessed value of taxable land in Greater New York is $4,643,414,776.

Thirteen families, out of the one million, one hundred thousand families in the city, are the owners of record of land in Manhattan alone assessed for $205,404, 875. These families are known to own much valuable land in the other boroughs of the city. Their total land holdings in Manhattan average $15,800,000 per family. These thirteen families own nearly one-fifteenth of the assessed value of the land of Manhattan—$3,184,441,505—though there are at least 560,000 families in Manhattan, forty-three thousand times thirteen.

These thirteen families are: The Astors, the Vanderbilts, the Rinelanders, O. B. Potter proprties, J. P. Morgan, E. H. Van Ingen, Wendels, Goelets, Ehret, Gerrys, Chas. F. Hoffman estate, Wm. R. Martin, Eugene Hoffman.

Nearly one-twentieth of the city's annual budget, or $10,000,000 is spent for the benefit of these thirteen big landed families, but pay this year only $3,841,071.16 taxes on their land out of their ground rent calculating the ground rent at only 6 per cent on the assessed value.

The assessed value of the so-called "improvements" of these thirteen families in Manhatten is only $59,212,775—a little more than one-fourth of the value of the land. The average small home owner has three times as valuable an improvement as his land, but the total assessed value of the land owned by the fifty-odd thousand small home owners of the city is less than that of the Astor family in Manhattan, though their improvements are worth several times as much as those of the Astors, and the small home owners as well as all tenants of the city are taxed for the benefit of these and all other big land monopolists in the city. Many of the so-called "improvements" of these thirteen families are only "taxpayers."

All these thirteen families bought land when it was cheap for a fraction of what it is worth now and the workers of New York City have been increasing their land values for them.

These thirteen families illustrate the reason for the opposition to the program of the Lower Rents Society to transfer taxes now levied on buildings to land values, and to meet all increases in the city budget by a supertax on land values.

These thirteen families this year pay $4,948,350.05 taxes. With buildings untaxed, they would pay $6,271,010.83, an increase of $1,340,424.41. A supertax of 5 mills on the land would yield $1,027,024.38.

With buildings untaxed, Sailors' Snug Harbor and Trinity Corporation would pay $59,444.58 more taxes than this year, and with a supertax of 5 mills on land values, $97,404 more.

The thirteen families own 8,952,500 worth of vacant, idle land in Manhattan, though there are many blocks with a density of 100 or more to the acre in this borough. They have many properties where the land is assessed for fifty times as much as the improvements.

The Lower Rents Society will issue a report shortly showing all families, persons or corporations owning $500,000 or over of land in the city, and the monopoly of acerage land in the outlaying district. It will make it clear that New York City has a government of the land speculators, by the land speculators, for the land speculators. Whether this shall be changed will be the big issue in the next municipal campaign.

But New York is not the only place where such conditions exist. In Chicago the tendency toward concentration is just as strong. One-twelfth of Chicago's real estate is owned by ten families. That is on the basis of assessed valuation. These ten families own real estate assessed at $189,250,000 of a total assessed valuation of $2,437,739,034. As a matter of fact they own an even larger share than those figures indicate. The property of these ten families is notoriously under-assessed. The property of small owners is assessed at nearly its true falue. So assessment figures do not show the full extent to which concentration has gone.

Then again in Chicago land and improvements are not assessed separately as in New York. If that were done, the proportion of land values owned by these ten families would far exceed one-twelfth. Although their holdings include skyscrapers and big department stores, the value of these is less than that of the ground on which they stand. In case of small home owners, the value of improvements far exceeds the value of the land. So with seperate and equal assessments, the share of these ten families would be shown to be so great as to be even more appalling than figurs at hand show.

One family, the Marshall Field estate, owns $100,000,000 assessed valuation. The other nine families are: The McCormick family, the Leiter estate, the Otto Young estate, the Potter Palmer estate, the L. C. Paine Freer estate, Charles W. Partridge, James A. Patten, the Brooks estate, Eugene S. Pike.

FEAR—By Geargo Matthew Adams

Fear is about the biggest bugaboo that failure sends out, for its red flame of destruction gets to the heart of more men and women than any other agency of evil. It is a force of fire that sooner of later is sure to burn the noble soul to dust, if not mastered.

Fear is inside of yourself—if it is anywhere. Your job is to smother it out. And here are a few suggestions. First, trust yourself. Then trust other people. And finally, trust God—for there is a God, somewhere, somehow. Where there is trust, there can be no fear.

At the moment that you feel no fear, you begin to live! Oh, you who read this little talk fear nothing. The purpose of a great world runs through you as it runs through truth. This day is an important part of the whole. And you are an important part of this day.

Walk past fear. It is easy and you can.

MAZDA

True Lighting Economy
Demands Good Electric Lamps

ELECTRIC LIGHTING BILLS are always higher in the Fall and Winter than during the Spring and Summer months.

EVERYONE KNOWS WHY—they realize that the hours of darkness increase greatly as winter approaches—understand how the short, cloudy days make a great deal of artifical lighting necessary in home, store and factory.

The greatest help toward keeping lighting bills where they ought to be consists of using Mazda lamps.

Most people interested in getting the best illumination at smallest expense already use Mazda lamps.

TRY THEM OUT IF YOU HAVE NOT ALREADY DONE SO.

"The Moth and the Flame," the greatest of all the celebrated plays by the gifted dramatist, Clyde Fitch, has been produced with remarkable effect by the Famous Players Film company, and is being shown today at the Richmond Theater.

The play made such a definate success when produced on the stage that the screen translation of the powerful plot is certain to attract wide interest. The moth is Marion Molton, a fashionable but very lovable girl in New York, who is in love with Edward Fletcher, though she is warned by her friends of his character. Womanlike, she declares she does not believe the stories of his past, and secretly tells herself that even if they are true she knows that she can reform him. She is about to marry him, when another young woman with a child presents herself at the wedding ceremony, and claims the name of the man. The moth is blinded by the flame, so that she cannot see the perils threatening her. The moth sees her danger, however just in time to avert it, and with the extinguishment of the flame, the moth, though her wings are singed, still manages to fly to safety and rescue her soul from the devouring fire.

The production is mounted richly and in good taste, and throughout the dignity and artistry of the Famous Players are conspicuously evident.

A very laughable comedy "Just Out of College" with other feature reels will also be shown.

WE'RE NOW CHAMPIONS OF ALL NORTHERN CAL. THAT'S STATE TITLE

Sunday's game at Bill Luce's Luce Park, proved one important thing. That is, that the Trolley Leagu does not put up anywhere near the brand of baseball played by Richmond, Petaluma and Sebastopol. The Elks did not put up their usual game of baseball but it was apparent after the first inning that the visitors were apparently sailing about in an unknown sea.

The score was 4 to 2, with Richmond on the long end of things. With the great Mickey Shader, star of the Trolley league dishing em up from the mound, and the Oroville club strengthened by the best material of Woodland, Marysville, Sacramento and Oroville, fans of Richmond were rather dubious as to the outcome. The frst inning did not add to the happiness, of the local boys. Three hits, one a homer, gave the visitors a tally in this round.

After that, while the visitors did threaten several times, their work on bases would have made a wooden Indian look like a speed burner. To Cliff Cleek, the catcher of the local club, can go a whole lot of credit for the victory. Cliff mowed the visitors down like chaff. Apparently base stealing in the Trolley League is a very usual custom. In the first inning, McLean, following a single set sail for second and was promptly morgued on a throw to Conger. McGinnis' homer then was introduced. In the third spasm, E. Carrigan was walked and also perished trying to get away with second. This was also disastrous for the visitors, T. Carrigan following with a triple to right.

It was really chilly was the day. Mr. Frank Gordon who prefers 150 in the shade when he pitches, entered the batttle with the firm resolve to bring home the bacon, and he did. This is probably the first time in the history of baseball that Mr. Gordon has twirled with the mercury flirting with the zero mark.

So, as a matter of fact the contest decided two things. The second being that Mr. Gordon is not only a warm weather twirler but also a cold weather performer.

Forthe benefit of Mr. Shader, let it be said that he twirled a nice game. But again let it be said that either Mr. Shader has something very queer on the ball or the Elks forgot their batting togs. The boys hit the ball hard enough, 'tis true but list, Mr. Robert Obidiah Desepsia Murphy, did not grab a hit. Mr. Gordon hit into a double play in the eighth ending the spasm. Mr. Moipuy assured the fans that he was just preparing to bat out a homer.

The Elks failed to hit in the pinches, too, and if they hadn't of brought home the bacon we should be tempted to say some uncomplimentary things. But we didn't even worry.

The boys didn't put up their usual game and if they had, the Trolley League would have certainly had reason to weep big weeps.

If the visitors were really the stars of the league, we can readily believe that some fans are treated to some terrible sights.

They blame the fact that the team had not been playing together as the principal reason for defeat.

Understand that Martinez will have a flag raising day next Sunday to celebrate the capture of the celler championship. Now here's a suggestion, Mr. McNamara. Why not have a can raising day, instead. Martinez has had the can tied to its tail by every bush club in the bay cities and to our mind nothing could be more appropriate.

"Hit'er over the fence, Cutie" implored a fan of Mr. Cunningham when he stepped to the plate in the third. Cutey did his best and slammed one to the r. f. f. which the custodian of the garden morgued. In the ninth Mr. Cunningham lifted a drive to the same field, and grabbed a brace of baces. The ball missed going over the fence about 3 inches.

Next Sunday Salt sake. The visitors will bring a couple of big leaguers with 'em. Old Fitz used tuh say, the bigger they are the harder they fall.

HOW DOES THIS SOUND RICHMOND ELKS SEMI-PRO CHAMPIONS OF THE PACIFIC COAST. WE'RE ENTITLED TO THAT NOW

AMONG THE VISITORS AT SUNDAY'S GAME WAS JUDGE MCCREDIE, MANAGER OF PORTLAND; TOMMY LAIRD, SPORTING WRITER FOR THE SAN FRANCISCO DAILY NEWS AND A THIRD CELEBRITIE, WHOSE NAME WE DID NOT LEARN. MCCREDIE IS LOOKING OVER THE GROUND WITH THE INTENTION OF SELECTING RICHMOND AS THE 1916 SEASON TRAINING QUARTERS FOR THE DUCKS. PERHAPS THE JUDGE WILL JUST SIGN THE ENTIRE CLUB PORTLAND WOULD HAVE A CHANCE FOR THE PENNANT, THEN. NOTHING LIKE BEING CONFIDENT AND BOOSTING FOR HOME TRADE, EH?

Sebastopol lost to the Bees Sunday 5 to 1.

Wot did we say Sunday a. m. in this col? Shrader has pitched 26 games and won 21.

Some rude fan let go with "Say Mickey, how'd yuh pitch that no hit game? Walk 'em all?" Now that's what we call real crool.

Mr. Murphy we're surprised at yuh.

NOT EVEN A HOME RUN, THAT IS PRETTY POOR, BOY, PRETTY POOR.

Oh say, fellers, we're goina have a new grandstand next season. Maybe.

CUBS AND POINTS ARE LEADING IN NEW RACE

Stand of Clubs in the Mid-winter League

CLUB	P.	W.	L.	PCT

Point Athletes	1	1	0	1.000
Modern Woodmen	1	0	1	.000
Winehaven	1	0	1	.000

Games Next Sunday

Winehaven vs. Points.

Cheek Cubs vs. Woodmen.

They're off in a cloud of dust. The new City Mid-Winted League got off to a flying start Sunday. Both gemes were fast and quite a delegation of fans were on the job. In fact the league premises to be a bigger success than was at first anticipated.

In a real thrilling match, the Pointers nosed out the Modern Woodmen, 6 to 5. Many clever plays were pulled during the afternoon and the fans who attended voted it a great game. Favell for the winners was in good form and allowed but seven hits. Green worked at the reception end. Chamberlain and Zelmer worked for the Woodmen.

The Cubs pulled quite a surprise when they eased the skids under the Wine makers. The score was 9 to 5.

Meadwald started for the Winemakers and lasted three innings when he was succeeded by Elmo Pinkerton. The score at this time was 4 to 4. Vargus opened for the Cubs and retired in the third in favor of Happy Bradley, the handsome manager of the Cubs. Mr. Bradley whiffed eight of the wine makers in the six spasms which he officiated and allowed three hits and one run. The hitting of Dike Montoya, and playing of Vargus at short were features for the Cubs. Beeson's work at first and Flynn's hitting were the star portions dished up by the Winehaven gang.

Chambers of the Points grabbed a couple of hard drives in left in the Point Woodman match.

The Woodmen out like winners and in the seventh were leading 4 to 2. In the eighth round, the Pointers got to Chamberlain and chased an even trio across the plate.

Yesterday's victory of the Cubs gives that aggregation a list of nine straight wins. Bradley is now wearing a new collar.
